Letter to Santa Claus.

The first letter of the season to Santa Claus, is handed us by a bright little four-year-old by. It is as follows:

My Dear Santa;—I am a little boy, four years old, and can't write but I can talk, therefore I am always talking about what I want you to bring me. Please bring me a big horn. I want it to blow when my dog goes off, so he will come home. My dog is named Dan, and he is a pretty black dog. Dan won't bite white people, so you needn't be afraid of him when you come to my house.

I want a big pistol, some figs, candy, a boat, cow and sheep. Please bring me something funny to scare ma and pa with, and we will have lots of fun. I want a great big Billy goat and a football. You can just bring me lots of pretty things. I live on Bragg street next door to Aunt Lizzie Jackson, so please don't pass me by. I will hang my stocking on a big nail by the mantle in mamma's room, so you can find it. Hoping to see you soon, I will say good bye. I am as ever one of your little boys.

THE FINAL PREPARATIONS.

Of The Articles of The Peace Treaty Concluded Today.

IN THE HANDS OF TYPEWRITERS

The Spanish Cabinet Agrees Upon Instructions to Senor Rios For Today's Meeting.

By Cable to The Telegram.

Paris, Nov. 30.—The American peace commissioners discussed the draft of the treaty article made yesterday, by secretaries Moore and Ojeda. The final preparations of those articles were concluded at one thirty, and the revised draft was then turned over to the type-writers, while the commissioners lunched by two o'clock, in time for the joint session.

At this time, however, the typewriting was not finished. Two Spaniards arrived first and were quickly followed by the Americans, except Judge Day, and Secretary Moore, who waited for the prepared copy of the articles and arrived at the conference a half hour later.

The two commissioners there began a discussion of the formulated protocol agreement and the subjects of negotiations which were presented to the joint commission in a form acceptable to the Americans.

The commissioners devoted two hous to drafting the first three articles of the peace treaty, dealing with the cession of Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, upon which they were agreed in principle. A general discussion of the other articles followed, after which the commission adjourned until tomorrow.

SPANISH CABINET MEETS.

Madrid, Nov. 30—The Cabinet at a meeting this morning agreed upon instructions for Senor Rios, president of the Spanish commission, for today's meeting of the commissioners. The cabinet also considered the action of the Carlists, concerning whom there were no new facts.

They further deliberated upon the repatriation of Spaniards in the Philippines, and the suspension of the constitutional guarantees, which, it was decided, will for the present remain suspended. Minister of the Interior Capdehon, in an interview, is quoted as saying the Carlists have no chance of success.

WANTS AN INVESTIGATION.

Pritchard Determined to Have Congressional Action.

Washington, Nov. 29—Senator Pritchard, of North Carolina, will, it is understood, offer at the coming session a resolution for the appointment of a special committee to investigate the recent race riots in the south. If the resolution is not adopted, or if no legislation is the result of the proposed investigation, Senator Pritchard will press the matter at the opening of the Fifty-sixth congress when the republicans will have a majority in the senate.

At the opening of that congress, the Wilmington riots will be brought to the attention of the house by means of the contested election case of Dockery vs. Bellamy from the Wilmington district. The latter will probably be unseated.

Some of the congressmen most deeply interested have urged President McKinley to refer to the North Carolina riots in his annual message and recommend remedial legislation. It is not yet known whether the president will heed the advice or not. Senator Chandler, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, said that some notice would have to be taken of what had happened in North and South Carolina. Senator Chandler said:

"Since the election law was repealed, which repeal was designed to end race troubles in the south, lynching has increased, instead of diminished. Lynchings have taken place, not only for insults to women, but for all sorts of alleged offences, until this year it was supposed that there were very few negro killings for political purposes. Suppression of negro votes by milder means was supposed to be the method adopted, but it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that in North and South Carolina this month the shot gun was taken up as a political agency to attain democratic victories. Senator Tillman is reported to have said publicly that there never would be a democratic victory in North Carolina until the shot gun was resorted to. My personal regard for Senator Tillman is such that I hope he will be able to disclaim any such utterance.

"Though I dislike to have the race question come into politics again, I do not see how it can be kept out if the facts we hear are true. If the issue in 1900 is to be what it was in 1856, whether the Solid South and New York city and New York state and a few other northern votes can overcome the almost solid north and elect a democratic president, there can be but one result. The northern heart will be fired quite as warmly as the shot gun will be taken up in the south. The south will be defeated.

"I hope the question may be avoided, but if the president recommends an investigation and action, an effort will be made to follow his recommendations. Whether legislation can be enacted it is of course doubtful, but the result of the next presidential election will not be in doubt."

SHARKEY IS READY.

Will Fight Corbett Again—Proceeds to Go to the Poor.

New York, Nov. 29—Yesterday in a published interview Corbett was quoted as saying that he was willing to fight Sharkey again for nothing providing he was allowed his training expenses.

Today Tom O'Rourke, Sharkey's manager, issued the following card:

"Corbett has stated that he will fight Sharkey for nothing if allowed training expenses. Sharkey accepts, providing the proceeds go to the poor as a Christmas gift, the press to form a committee who will distribute the money. Let Corbett name the time, which must not be later than two weeks hence."

Buying Conquered Territory.

The proposition to pay money to Spain is a disgraceful one. It is suggestive of something worse than a mistake. To buy assets that we have conquered is a proceeding manifestly absurd. No pettifogging about the legal aspects of the case can justify it. The purpose to pay $20,000,000—a sum, by the way, which the Spanish negotiators seem to regard with contempt—stimulates those who are opposed to annexation on any terms. Citizens who might yield their opposition if the islands came to us purely as conquered territory will assemble all the reasons for opposition in view of the proposed indemnity.—Cincinatti Enquirer.

THE NICARAGUAN CANAL.

Support of The Project Will Be Pushed In Congress.

THE COMPTROLLER APPROVES.

The Application of The Piedmont Bank For Conversion into a National Bank.

Special to The Telegram.

Washington, Nov. 30—Members of the Senate and House of Representatives arriving in the city from the south, and especially those from the gulf states, are almost unanimous in their support of the Nicaraguan Canal project. Senators and representatives from the section agree that the efforts to pass the measure will be very earnest during the session about to convene. No doubt is felt of the passage of the bill through the senate by a decisive vote, and the prospects seem to be at this time, that consideration of the measure will also be granted in the house. Senator Morgan, of Alabama, is doing some earnest work in behalf of the construction of the canal, has been much encouraged by promise of support from unexpected quarters. Members from the east and west, who are not so much interested in the construction of the canal from a personal point of view, as are the representatives from the gulf states, will furnish several votes for the passage of the bill through the senate. Among the latest supporters of the bill is Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts.

Members of the house from the gulf states express hopes that the republicans will allow consideration of the bill in the house at the coming session and will probably later in the session petition Speaker Reed in behalf of the bill, but this will not be done until after the passage of the bill now pending in the senate.

It is said that both Senators Pritchard and Butler are in favor of the construction of the canal, and that nearly all, if not the entire North Carolina delegation in the house are in favor of the bill, and will unite in urging consideration at the short session.

Members of the North Carolina delegation are slow in arriving at Washington for the coming session of Congress. Neither Senator Butler nor Senator Pritchard have as yet arrived. Among the members of the house, Mr. Pearson has arrived, but the majority of the delegation have failed, as yet, to put in their appearance. At the places where the North Carolina delegation usually make their headquarters while in the city, it is thought that several of the congressmen will arrive within two or three days.

Senator Daniel, of Virginia, arrived in the city Monday night and went to the Metropolitan hotel.

Dr. Powhatan S. Dance, whose death is reported to have occurred at his home at Clearwater, Florida, last Wednesday, was a native of the state of Virginia, having been born in Powhatan county, of that state. He had many friends throughout North Carolina and Virginia, and it is said that in former years he was a frequent visitor to this section of the country.

The Comptroller of the Currency has officially reported his approval of the application of the Piedmont Bank, of Greesboro North Carolina, for its conversion to a National bank. The title of the National bank is now the City National Bank of Greensboro. The capital of the bank is given at $100,000.

Nearly all of the members of the North Carolina delegation in congress during the present session, it is expected will be accompanied to Washington by their wives. During the last session they were all accompanied by their families with the exception of representatives Fowler, Kitchen, Martin and Pearson. Owing to the fact that this is a short session, however, and most of the present delegation will retire at the end of three months, some of the congressmen who last session brought their wives to Washington, will probably leave them at home this year, as they wish to economize.

Major-General Matthew C. Butler left Washington last night for a visit to his home in South Carolina. After visiting his home in the South for a few days he will return to Havana. The General yesterday was among the callers at the White House.

Mr. A. L. Harris, member of the Industrial Labor Commission of North Carolina, has returned to Washington from North Carolina where he spent the Thanksgiving holidays. He attended the session of the commission yesterday.

AN INVESTIGATION.

Senator Pritchard is clamoring for an investigation. He seems determined to have congressional action in regard to the recent troubles in Wilmington. Investigation, yes, that's the stuff. It's the fashion now to investigate. There was once a board of investigation on the Maine disaster, and it discovered what everybody knew before—that the Maine had been blown to Kingdom Kum. There is now a board of war investigators, and only yesterday they were having a regular monkey and parrot time trying to get somebody to testify. It is the cheapest of all the cheap farce-comedy now before the gaze of the American people.

Proceed with the investigation business, Mr. Pritchard. Your lovely and beautiful little scheme to send federal troops into North Carolina had much to do with the way many white people in your own party voted. An "investigation" in Guilford county will prove this.

And as to the Wilmington trouble, an honest investigation will show that the negroes fired the first shots, and it will also show that Wilmington has now an able and a clean city government, whereas, a few weeks ago the government there was corrupt, vile and rotten. It will also show that the intelligence, the virtue and the decency of North Carolina is capable of attending to its own affairs.

But perhaps the senator has a remote kinsman somewhere who is specially adapted and qualified for the investigation business—therefore

Let the investigation be authorized and let the wisdom of the senator be displayed in selecting the investigators.

SEPARATE COACHES.

Apropos of the statement that the railroads will fight vigorously the separate car bill when it comes before the legislature, the Charlotte Observer remarks :

Of course; that has all the while been foreseen: but this opposition should not prevent the enactment of the bill into a law. Mr. T. M. Emerson, of the Atlantic Coast Line, says in an interview that the best way in the world to keep the races separate is to keep the two fares—first and second-class—as now. That may be all right for the Coast Line, but we folks in this part of the country know that it doesn't work up here. The real objection of the railroads to this law is that in many cases it will require them to haul more cars. That is all right—that is what some of them need to do anyhow. For instance, it is no unusual thing at all for the fast mail of the Southern railway to come into Charlotte with passengers standing in the aisles, being thus unjustly denied the accommodations for which they have paid the charge. Let us have the separate car law, and where the railroads cannot so divide their present cars as to afford proper separate accommodations for the two races, let them add others to their trains.

And the Observer is right. If it is best to have separate waiting rooms in passenger stations, it is also better to provide separate coaches for the accommodation of the races while travelling. It will have a tendency to avoid and allay friction between the races. It often happens that a man or woman who is sensitive on the race question enters a coach and finds the only chance for a seat is with a negro, or vice versa, and it is invariably true that the newcomer is received with a grunt of dissatisfaction on the part of the first occupant, and it sometimes happens that he is not allowed to sit down at all.

But it is folly to attempt to argue the wisdom of having separate coaches. All thinking and intelligent people, we believe, of both races, will agree that the system should be adopted.

EXCURSIONS COMING.

Let Greensboro Merchants Make a Note of These.

In order to allow people from different places to visit Greensboro, the center of trade, before the holidays, there will be three excursions over the C. F. & Y. V. Railway in December. The first will be run from Mt. Airy on Dec. 8th, the second from Ramseur on Dec. 10th, and the third from Jonesboro on December 17th. The latter will take passengers at Gulf from the Durham & Charlotte railway.

On all of these trains popular prices will prevail and many people will visit Greensboro on those dates in order to do their Christmas holiday shopping. We give this as a pointer for our merchants, that they may join in making the trip pleasant and profitable for the visitors.

It Is Found In Minstrelsy.

Now that farce comedy has seen its day and the public turns to something light, it is found in minstrelsy, which is again as popular as ever. There is nothing as entertaining as the minstrel when it is given by competent people, such as found in Richards & Pringle's-Rusco & Holland's Big Minstrel Festival, who give a bright and new entertainment with features up to date. They carry over fifty people, two bands, two first parts, special scenery and elegant costumes, which make a strong aggregation. This big show will appear at the Academy of Music, one night only, Friday, Dec. 2nd.

One thing which will be a great surprise to the visitors to this minstrel will be the European novelties which have been imported for this company, such as Arabs, Japanese and circus adjuncts which have been injected into minstrel programmes.

Richards & Pringle's-Rusco & Holland's Big Minstrel Festival give an old-time-minstrel show, with features up to date. Nothing said or done to offend the most fastidious is the guarantee of the management.

They will appear at the Academy of Music, one night only, Friday, Dec. 2.

Concord's Population.

From a special to the Charlotte Observer we see that the population of Concord in 1896 was about 6,300, while a recent census shows the town now has a population of 7,156. Of this number only 1,808 are colored. The number of school children in the town is 2,490, 509 of these being colored.

Advertising Is the Stuff.

When a man begins to advertise
It means he's full of enterprise;
He's got the barnacles off his back,
And shows his fellows where they lack,
The old mossbacks may growl and kick
But the advertiser "gets there" quick,
Providing all his wares are "straight,"
Reasonable in price and up-to-date,
Truth and facts must be the rule;
For the people now you cannot fool,
Since in this age they read and think,
And follow the light of printer's ink.

A WORK OF ART.

The Book Issued By the Southern Railway Company.

"The Empire of the South; Its Resources, Industries and Resorts," is the title of a book just issued by the Southern Railway Company, "whose interests are identical with those of the states traversed by its lines." The book is elegantly designed and is printed in the highest style of the art. It contains illustrations and descriptive matter of every place of consequence along the lines of the Southern Railway, from Washington City, south, through the states of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, Kentucky, Louisiana and Florida. Both the descriptive matter and the engravings are excellent, and not only is the information which it gives of the south of a full and comprehensive character, but it is presented in a most absorbingly entertaining style. The work must have cost the Southern railway a large sum of money, the benefits from which expenditure are calculated to redound very greatly to the interests of the south. It is a clear case of a railroad corporation putting out money for the interests of the people living along its lines. For its part, Charlotte very cheerfully makes acknowledgement of the debt it owes to the Southern railway by reason of the publication of this splendid work.—Charlotte Observer.

The Telegram has received a copy the beautiful work of art referred to by the Observer, and we desire to endorse the nice things said of it by our contemporary.

A Sure Sign of Croup.

Hoarseness in a child that is subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the desease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Many mothers who have croupy children always keep this remedy at hand and finds that it saves them much trouble and worry. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by, C. E. THE TOBACCO HABIT.

HAVE YOU GOT IT, AND DO YOU WANT TO LOSE IT?

A Chicago Specialist Says That a Sure Cure For "My Lady Nicotine" Can Be Found In the Plentiful Use of the Humble Peanut.

However fantastic my particular method of dealing with the tobacco habit may seem on paper it will effect a cure if faithfully carried out. In the first place, be sure that your patient really desires to break off the habit of using tobacco. In the second place, remember that your patient will react according to the impression your manner makes upon his mind. If you speak lightly of your method of treating him, he will hold that method in small esteem. Therefore, speak impressively, and if he smiles at your modus operandi frown him into a decent humility.

Suggestion alone is not sufficient to hold the average tobacco user, and you will therefore add a material medicine in the shape of—peanuts! Yes, my friend, ludicrous as the idea seems, there lies in the vulgar peanut a charm to sap the power of "My Lady Nicotine" and free the fettered slave.

In all drug habits there are two conditions to combat—physical and mental, or physiological and psychological. I use peanuts to offset the physical craving and suggestion to calm the mind.

What is the condition of the user of tobacco if the weed is withdrawn? It is important to understand this, because there is but a slight variation in one dozen cases from the average.

The condition is one of mental unrest, some physical sensations and nervousness The withdrawal of tobacco acts as a withdrawal of a powerful nerve tonic, because this weed, used first as a nerve sedative, becomes by force of usage a nerve stimulant. Let us take the mental condition first under consideration. I do not try to put a tobacco user to sleep, because it is an unnecessary performance, but give him positive suggestions while he is sitting opposite me to the following effect:

That it will be easy to break him of the habit.

That he will not suffer, despite the fact that he has tried to break off previously, but has failed on account of the discomfort ensuing

That he is not a hero or a being to be pitied or sympathized with, because he will not be called upon to display any heroic qualities of endurance.

That if he follows directions he will not suffer from nervousness or "sinkings" at the pit of the stomach.

That he will begin at once to gain in weight; that his memory will be sharper and more tenacious, and that his digestive organs will regain tone; that his nerves will be as steel, his muscles as iron and his complexion will lose the muddy hue which mars its comeliness.

That the habit is uncleanly—in fact, degrading—and that its gratification entails a gross waste of money What right has he to literally burn his income when his wife is compelled to wear a gown that is out of date?

Thus, then, do I prepare the patient's mind for the lightness of the task before him, laying special stress upon the fact that he will at no time consider himself an object of compassion or self pity, for if he believe himself to be performing a deed of no small heroism he will suffer agonies, whereas if his abnegation is ignored and taken as a matter of course he will react accordingly.

Now, as to the physical symptoms, they will be but slight if the above preparation of the mind is properly done and will show themselves in occasional pains about the region of the heart, sinking at the pit of the stomach, a lassitude, weak and accelerated pulse and muscular twitchings. Nervousness, jumping at a sudden noise and irritability of temper will be in evidence, but will be greatly modified by suggestion.

Prescribe peanuts, to be eaten slowly, constantly and continually He must be occupied. Busy him therefore with peanuts. He would, if left alone, think tobacco. He must, on the contrary, think peanuts. Has he a loathing for peanuts? All the better He will learn to love them for their nutritious qualities and intrinsic flavor Does his stomach rebel on the second or third day? Has he biliousness or colic? It is still well, because no man when bilious desires tobacco.

Observe that you are supplying him with material for his digestive organs to work upon, and that his jaws are not idle. There is no vacuum, and there will be under this regimen no sinking at the pit of the stomach. A feeling of fullness perhaps, a plethoric condition, a sense of satiety, but this is exactly what we desire to bring about. Keep the system busy and at work; keep the mind at rest.

Ah, my friends, how true it is that the mouse may gnaw the ropes that bind the lion! Even the plebeian peanut may be the means of restoring harmony to an afflicted household. I have known this humble agent, taken according to directions, stretch strong men upon beds of sickness from which they rose in the course of a day or two clean of heart and purged of the craving for tobacco. I have known of others whose stomachs were not upset and who went their way rejoicing and waxed fat speedily.

I have never known of a failure if the above directions were carried out. The tobacco habit is not worthy to be classed as a drug habit.—Sydney Flower, Ll. D., in New York Herald.

"If you'd been half an hour later," she said, "I don't know what I should have done.

"What's happened?" he asked.

"Why, Mrs Gadding, next door, has been in here with such an extraordinary tale, which she made me promise I would never breathe to a living soul, that it has seemed as if I positively couldn't wait for you to come home to tell you about it." Chicago Post.

I am very pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlain's medicines the sale has been very large, more especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than of all other makes for the previous five years. As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good result they have received from it, and know its value from the use of it in my own household. It is so pleasant to take that we have to place the bottle beyond the reach of the children.

The Social Standing

of most men is much higher than the sum of their income. To such men it must be good news to learn that they do not have to pinch themselves in order that they may pay the extravagant tailor's bills. We sell perfectly fitting clothes for business, semi-dress or full dress occasions of unquestionable style and superb qualities at prices which permit the saving of almost half tailor's bills. Our best clothes are made by the famous New York tailors, Messrs. Fecheimer, Fishel & Co., whose label on every garment is a guarantee that the clothes are equal to "custom made" in every particular. Therefore, whether it is a sack suit, a cutaway or a Prince Albert frock, a pair of trousers, a top coat or an overcoat that you need, do yourself the justice to at least see our offerings—and then go to your tailor if you like—but you won't.
